PRICE THREE CENTS

HOSPITAL BOARD ANXIOUS FOR MORE APPROPRIATIONS

$10,000 Needed For Charitable Work During Year, Directors Declare At Meeting.

The measure authorizing an appropriation of $19,000 for the Annie M. Warner Hospital for the next two years has been reported out of committee in the lower house of the state legislature at Harrisburg in the sum of $8,750, the directors of the hospital were informed at the regular February meeting of the board at the institution Friday evening.

Directors expressed gratification at the amount of the biennial appropriation, which for the last two years was only $4,000. A further cut in the amount to be given the Warner hospital may be made as the appropriations measure passes through the house and senate, the directors were told, but the hope was expressed that the amount would be allowed to remain as contained in the measure as reported out of committee.

Charity Work $10,000

The local hospital, directors say, annually does more than $10,000 worth of charity work, and the state appropriation for that purpose has always been much smaller than the needs imposed upon it, thereby causing a drain upon other funds of the institution.

Only current business was transacted at the February meeting.

The January report of Miss Martha McKay, superintendent, was given as follows:

Patients admitted, 44; discharged, 49; births, 5; average number of patients per day, 20; number remaining on last day on month, 17; radio-graphs, 55; laboratory examinations, 130; accident cases, 23; returning dressings, 10. No deaths occurred at the institution last month.

S. G. Bigham, Biglerville, president of the board, presided. Directors present were Dr. George D. Stahley, the Rev. Father Mark E. Stock, J. H. Holtzworth, Dorsey Dougherty, M. F. Stoner, John D. Keith, George W. Schwartz and E. M. Bender.

BIGLERVILLE P.-T. TO MEET TUESDAY

A program centering about the life, work and character of Lincoln will be presented at a meeting of the Biglerville Parent-Teachers' association next Tuesday evening, R. E. Underwood, president, announced today. Speakers will be I. L. Taylor, Gettysburg, and the Rev. Henry W. Sternat, Miss Eleanor Burke and Mrs. M. T. Dill, of Biglerville.

A Lincoln day dialogue, in which children of the third and fourth grades of the Biglerville public schools, Miss Catherine Orner, teacher, will participate, and selections by the high school orchestra and glee club also will be given.

DISPLAY SPACES FOR AUTO SHOW ALL BEEN TAKEN

More Than 40 Models Of Cars Will Be Shown At Annual Exhibition Of Dealers.

All available space, both in the section reserved for the display of automobiles and in that part given over to accessories and allied products of the automotive industry, has been contracted for, the Adams county automobile dealers' association, which will hold the third annual automobile show at the Gettysburg garage, York street, February 22 to 26, inclusive, was informed at a meeting Friday evening.

More than forty different makes and models of the "last word" in automobiles will be on display at the show which opens the evening of Washington's birthday and continues four afternoons and evenings thereafter. Besides the automobiles, there will be the usual displays of gasolines and oils, accessories of one kind or another, and allied products, such as radios.

To Give Door Prizes

Entertainment features for the show include two orchestras, which will alternate in furnishing music during the five evenings the show is in progress. As a special attraction, the McClellan song birds, of Golden's station, have been engaged to sing one or two evenings.

Door prizes amounting to $40 in gold will be drawn for Saturday evening. The first prize will be $20, with four additional prizes of $5 each.

The Gettysburg garage, E. C. Ott, proprietor, will be attractively decorated for the show in a color scheme of orange and blue. While the show is going on, persons who store their cars there will be given the opportunity to place them in other nearby garages without extra expense.

TRAINING CLASS TO BE STARTED AT ARENDTSTVILLE

The Reformed and Lutheran churches of Arendtsville through their church schools have completed arrangements for a community class in leadership training to be held every Thursday night at 7 o'clock in one of the rooms of the Arendtsville Vocational high school.

The object of this class will be to acquaint more fully those taking the course with the challenge that comes to church, school and community to make rural life better, richer and more satisfying. The new book on rural life, "Our Temple Hills" by Ralph A. Felton, will be the text used. The Rev. Murray E. Ness, pastor of Zion Reformed church, Arendtsville, will be the leader of this course.

Lincoln not Clever Lawyer, Masterful Orator nor Skilled Politician, Speaker Declares

Greatness Lay In Unusual Balance Of Many Good And Estimable Qualities Of Character Which Endearred Him To Middle Class, Dr. Harvey D. Hoover States.

Lincoln's greatness lay in the fact that he had an unusual balance of many good and estimable qualities of character which endeared him with the great middle class of his day from which he sprung, the Rev. Dr. Harvey D. Hoover, member of the faculty of the Lutheran theological seminary, said in an address at the annual Lincoln birthday celebration of the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War at the Corporal Skelly G. A. R. post room, East Middle street, Friday evening.

"Lincoln," the speaker continued, "was not a clever lawyer, not a masterful orator, not a successful businessman, not a great legislator, nor a skilled politician, but he had certain qualities of character which made him the prototype of his age."

Among the qualities of character which made for greatness in the emancipator, Doctor Hoover cited his sound judgment, firmness in right principles, broad sympathy, truthfulness, an unusually large amount of common sense and the ability to stick by his task in spite of criticism and abuse.

"Although he was on the losing side oftener than on the winning side, Lincoln showed his true metal by remaining steadfast to his purpose," the speaker said.

Doctor Hoover, native of Adams county, but a resident of Illinois for a number of years, brought to his audience something of the Lincoln spirit and tradition as he found it in visits to the places where the Civil War president spent his younger days.

The speaker defended Lincoln's father, Thomas Lincoln, against claims of certain writers that he was a ne'er-do-well, "Tom Lincoln," Doctor Hoover added, "was a product of the great middle class of his day, who was always in misfortune not through any fault of his own. He was not shiftless or lazy, but 'hard luck' greeted him at every turn and it was always an uphill battle he waged."

Doctor Hoover was loud in his praise of Lincoln's mother, saying she was a Christian in the full sense of the word and that Lincoln caught that spirit from her in boyhood, adding to it as he grew older.

The Rev. L. B. Hafer, Carlisle street, was master of ceremonies. The invocation was given by the Rev. W. D. E. Scott. Miss Lily Dougherty and Miss Betty Strausbaugh gave entertaining readings, and Charles Lackner recited Lincoln's Gettysburg address.

After the program was presented, members of the Sons of Veterans auxiliary served a banquet in the dining room of the post hall.

1926 GAS TAX UP $2,000,000

Think That, at Present Rate of Increase, $28,000,000 Will be Available in 2 Years.

(By Associated Press) Harrisburg, Feb. 12.—Collection of gasoline tax for the last six months of 1926 was $6,515,165, bringing the total for the year to $11,767,757, an increase of $1,260,000 over 1925, S. S. Lewis, state treasurer, announced today. The tax amounts to 2 cents a gallon, one fourth being returned to the counties in which the tax originates.

Mr. Lewis said that, should the same ratio of increase prevail in the next two years, the 1927-1928 period should yield approximately $28,000,000. He said that this sum will be sufficient to pay state road bonds sinking fund charges and leave more than $5,000,000 for road construction and maintenance.

Amounts to the counties for the last six months include Adams, $10,245; Franklin, $14,697.

Tuesday we start our Annual Marked-down Sale of Tahard Inn Library Life Memberships, regular $1.50, during sale, 89c.; several hundred new books entered. People's Drug Store, The Rexall, Kodak, Victrola Store.

S. S. CONVENTION DATES ARE SET

Executive Committee of County Organization Plans For Sessions July 19 and 20.

July 19 and 20 were chosen as the dates for the annual Adams county Sunday school convention, at a meeting of the executive committee Friday evening at the Pitzer house, Chambersburg street. The convention will be held in Biglerville.

With two members of the executive committee in attendance and the president, M. E. Knouse, Biglerville, presiding, it was urged that all members and officers of the county organization enroll in the leadership training school in March.

The county Sunday school association is expected to send delegates to an adult Bible class rally to be held in York February 21 and 22, it was stated at the meeting.

Roy Heckenluber was chosen delegate to the Young People's state council which meets at Williamsport April 20. Mr. Heckenluber is superintendent of the Young People's division in Adams county.

Robert M. Cable pianos, Bush radio, Columbia Vox Tonal and new process records, The Music Shoppe.

COUPLE OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY OF SIXTIETH WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Herbst, Former County Residents, Celebrate Quietly at York Home.

Enjoying good health and exceptionally active for persons of their years, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob C. Herbst, both natives of Adams county, celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of their marriage at their home in York today. They spent the day quietly at home.

The couple were married February 12, 1867, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sachs, who lived near the present site of the Gettysburg water works.

The ceremony was performed by the late Rev. Dr. E. S. Breidenbaugh, then pastor of St. James Lutheran church, and father of the late Dr. E. S. Breidenbaugh, head of the chemistry department at Gettysburg college for more than fifty years.

The couple were attended by Miss Mary Keitle, a niece of the bride, and C. P. Bream, of Fairfield, now living with his son in California.

Mr. Herbst was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Herbst, of Gettysburg, and is a veteran of the Civil War.

With the exception of two years spent at Lexington, North Carolina, Mr. and Mrs. Herbst resided on a farm near here. Mr. Herbst retired from farming fifteen years ago, and has spent the past nine years in York, where he and his wife make their home with their son-in-law and daughter, the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. George W. Enders, East King street.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbst have two children: Mrs. George W. Enders, York, and Mrs. C. C. Blankenship, Roanoke, Virginia. They have two grandchildren, George W. Enders and Charles Schriver, both of York, and three great-grandchildren, Marion Enders, Margaret Alice Enders and Charles Richard Schriver.

PATRIOTIC BODIES TO ATTEND CHURCH

Civil War veterans, sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War and members of the auxiliary of the latter organization will attend services at Christ Lutheran church in a body, Sunday evening to hear the Rev. Dr. A. E. Wagner, pastor, give an address on Abraham Lincoln.

Those planning to attend the service are urged to meet at the Corporal Skelly post room, East Middle street, at 6:40 o'clock, Sunday evening.

TO ADDRESS SOCIETY

The Rev. Dr. Joseph A. McAndrews, spiritual advisor at Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, will address a special meeting of the men of the Holy Name society of St. Francis Xavier church, Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Reception of new members into the organization will be held at the same time.

HereandThere

News and Comment by THE EDITOR

Saturday bank holidays cause a lot of inconvenience to business men with payrolls in Gettysburg. Holidays such as Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays of which there is usually no general observance of a public nature are, as a rule, forgotten by the average busy man until they come around and locked doors of a bank interfere with the week-to-week routine.

One Gettysburg business man with a fair sized payroll called about 16 other business men on the telephone this morning in an effort to get enough cash together to meet his payroll so that his workers could make their usual Saturday purchases.

It is suggested that Gettysburg banks make it the regular duty of one of their employees to telephone their customers who have payrolls to meet a couple days in advance of Saturday holidays.

The "ancient and honorable custom" of putting father under the table on his birthday was revived by five sons of L. Earl Miller, assessor at York Springs, when he celebrated his forty-ninth anniversary with a family dinner. He had around the festive board his eight children—five sons and three daughters.

It was no small undertaking for Ben, Milt, Paul, Jess and Glenn to carry out the old custom after the big meal of the day, but they finally accomplished it. Mr. Miller weighed in at 185 pounds and his sons admit that he hasn't lost any of his Herculean strength with his advancing years.

No wonder the price of veal is high. Mervin Winand, of Reading township, sold a 4-week-old calf to a dealer the other day that weighed 169 pounds, receiving 13 cents a pound, or $25.48.

New Oxford, the "town beautiful," seems to be more progressive than Gettysburg in the matter of street lighting. Its council, without quibbling, has entered into a contract with the Metropolitan-Edison company to light the town for $1365 a year. There are to be 42 60-watt lights and they will be placed around the entire town, with 100-watt lights on the square.

Adams county's fire fighting equipment is rapidly being motorized. With the Arendtsville company raising a fund with which to motorize its equipment, York Springs fire fighters have voted to purchase a combined chemical engine and pumper at a cost of about $2500.

GIRLS FORM CLUB AT YORK SPRINGS

A grade school club was formed at York Springs by Miss Metta Mitchell, general secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association, Friday. Six girls compose the club, but it is expected that several more will be enrolled at the next meeting. The officers of the club are: Margaret Culp, president; Ruth Gardner, secretary; Alice Cushman, treasurer. The other members are Jeanette Trough, Margaret Boyer and Ethel Spangler. Miss Blanche Gardner is advisor of the club.

The high school girls' club which was formed at York Springs two weeks ago by Miss Mitchell now has a membership of 15 girls. The club advisors are Miss Elizabeth Wolff and Miss Ethel LaRue.

Y. W. BOARD TO HEAR REPORTS

The county board of the Young Women's Christian Association will hold its regular monthly meeting in the association building Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Ralph Cannon, president of the York Y. W. C. A., will be the guest of the board for the afternoon and will give an account of the Eastern Regional conference of the National Y. W. C. A. recently held in New York City.

SERVICES HELD FOR MISS IRVIN

Funeral services for Miss Laura Jane Irvin were held this morning with requiem high mass at St. Francis Xavier church, the Rev. Mark Stock officiating. Interment was made in St. Francis Xavier cemetery.

The pallbearers were: Joseph Irvin, Norman Irvin, John Irvin, C. Joseph Breighner, Norbert Oyler and Joseph Smith.

LIBRARY PROJECT IS DISCUSSED BY STATE DIRECTOR

Miss Zachert Tells Of Need For Good Library In Schools At Parent-Teachers Meeting.

"The library is not a charity nor a luxury, but a part and parcel of the necessary equipment for modern school education," Miss Adeline Zachert, state director of public school libraries, stated during her address before the Parent-Teachers association of Gettysburg, Friday night. A large number of parents and teachers attended the sessions held in the high school auditorium.

Miss Zachert stressed the need of such an addition to the equipment of the schools, in order that the children can be given an incentive to continue with their education instead of quitting school before they have completed their high school course. The purpose of the library is not only for furnishing reading material for the children, but also is to be used as a reference room in which to teach the pupils how to use books and how to study, Miss Zachert said, adding that it is important to surround children in the grade schools with good books as a basis for thought, habit and character building.

Board Proffers Aid

George P. Black, secretary of the school board, outlined the extent to which the directors would go in aiding with the project for a school library, and on behalf of the directors volunteered any assistance to the association which the board might be able to give.

Several new members were added to the library league and it was decided to continue the campaign for additional members.

The eighth grade at the Lincoln school had the largest number of parents present at the meeting.

The program was opened with several songs by the pupils of the sixth grade at the High street school, taught by Miss Maud Miller. The pupils of the seventh grade school of the Lincoln building gave a playlet, "The Young Patriot's club," under the direction of Miss Eva Sachs. The cast of the play included: Paul Weiser, Henry Spahr, John Wible, Richard Smith, Eleanor Peckman, Sarah Showmaker Eleanor Shields, Mary Weaver, Areta Worthington and Bernice Weikert.

Miss Louise Hartzell gave a mandolin solo. Her accompanist was Miss Nancy Keith.

AUTO INSURANCE BILL WATCHED

Would Refuse License to Owner Unable to Furnish $6000 Damages.

Automobilists of Gettysburg and Adams county are watching with interest a bill introduced in the house of representatives at Harrisburg by Representative Patrick Conner, Philadelphia, which would refuse registration to automobile owners in cases where they were unable to pay damages in cases of accident up to $6,000. This is the first automobile insurance bill to go before the 1927 legislature. Owners now are required to furnish the department with a statement in cases where the cars are not fully paid for, but they are not compelled to satisfy the department that they are financially able to pay for any damages in cases of accidents.

The Conner measure requires automobile owners to satisfy the department that they are financially able to pay any claims for damages up to $6,000 and registration could not be obtained unless the secretary of highways is convinced that bills entered against them could be met. The bill provides that owners must be financially able to respond in damages of at least $2,500 for the death of one person and of at least $5,000 for the death of more than one and $1,000 for property damage in an accident "as the result or because of the negligent use, maintenance or operation of such motor vehicle."

Owners of more than one vehicle would be required to submit proof of ability to respond in damages in the amount of $4,000 for each vehicle with a maximum of $20,000 for any number of vehicles registered. The secretary of highways or authorized agents shall be the sole judge of such financial responsibility and may require the applicant to take out an insurance policy. Revocation of registration is provided in cases where the insurance policies have been declared void by the insurance organization.

WOMEN WOUNDED
FIGHTING REBELS

Battalion Led by 20 Year Old Girl Helps Fight Liberals in Nicaraguan Battle.

Managua, Nicaragua, Feb. 12.—A battalion of women, formed and led by a 20-year-old girl, assisted the Conservative forces to recapture the town of Chinandega from the rebel Liberals, thus restoring communications between Corinto and Managua.

Sixteen women were wounded while passing out ammunition to soldiers in trenches, cleaning guns and passing food.

Natalia Garcia, of Managua, leader of the battalion, was shot through the left breast and is in a serious condition.

Chinandega presented a horrible picture when visited Thursday by a correspondent for the Associated Press.

Twelve squares, chiefly in the business section, were flattened and smoke was still rising from the ruins. Bullet holes were in almost every house, and shell fragments were scattered throughout the streets.

Dozens of dead were piled here and there, while buzzards hovered overhead. An atmosphere of death was everywhere. The water supply was still cut off, and that available was unhealthy. Virtually no food and no medicine remained in the town except what was rushed from Managua and Corinto.

A few Liberals, barricaded in their homes, kept up a desultory fire, and shooting in the outskirts continued at night. Ninety families were without homes.

The death toll of the battle probably never will be exactly known, but the Conservative commander estimated the Conservatives lost 20 men and the Liberals 175. The difference was due, he said, to the fact that early in the fight the Liberals had a heavy preponderance of machine guns.

Approximately 400 wounded were taken to hospitals in Corinto, Leon and Managua. Forty of these were transported to United States emergency hospitals in Corinto.

General Viquez, who commanded the 300 soldiers who originally defended Chinandega against the Liberals, said that he spent fifty hours, without food or drink, barricaded in Calvary church.

ACADEMY TRIMS
YORK COUNTIANS

Running away from their opponents in the second half, after trailing at half time, the Gettysburg academy quintet defeated the York county academy team on the latter's floor in York, Friday evening, by the score 29 to 22. The Yorkers led 16 to 15 at the end of the first half.

Hall, formerly of Sunbury high, was the outstanding star for the Orange and Blue academy, with six field goals and 1 foul goal to his credit. Strayer, Smith and Williams led the scoring for York.

EDISON, 80, GIVES VIEWS ON LIFE

Denounces Spiritualism As "Bunk"; Expresses Belief "Man Is Dead As Granite."

West Orange, N. J., Feb. 12.—The eightieth anniversary of his birth yesterday was a hard day for Thomas A. Edison. There were honors a plenty, but newspapermen kept him busy for hours with questions on immortality, science, theology, cosmology and politics.

Henry Ford, who came here to celebrate the day quietly, was interrogated so much about taxes, profits, production and war that he admitted his immense wealth was a real impediment at a time such as this.

Edison, however, had the harder time of the two. For two hours he sat at his desk and in a firm, round script characteristic of the telegraph operator, answered the queries, which because of his deafness were submitted in writing.

Uses Three Pencil Stubs
Three pencil stubs lay on his desk when the task was begun. Almost two hours later, when he had reached for the third stub and the handwriting began to waver, an assistant seized him affectionately by the shoulders and shouted into his ear:

"Only a few more, Mr. Edison." Spiritualism is the "bunk" the wizard replied to the question of one reporter.

His views on immortality, expressed at a previous interview, were unchanged, Edison said. He proposed that every known fact in favor of immortality be put in a column against fact contrary to the belief.

"Then," he said, "in time we might find in summing up that there were fifty-six per cent in favor and forty-four per cent against immortality."

"The word 'God' has no meaning to me," he went on, "but I do believe that there is a Supreme Intelligence pervading the universe, and at times I believe that when a man dies the swarms of billions of highly organized entities which live in the cells desert the body, go out into space, keep on, enter another and last cycle."

"Man is not the unit of life. Man is as dead as granite. The unit of life consists of these highly organized entities."

"How does an idea for an invention occur to you?" Edison was asked. "By various methods too long to explain," he replied. "The real new thing is like a general idea, a beautiful melody pulled out of space, a fact which is inexplicable."

Returning to subjects in the realm of cosmology, the inventor expressed doubt about the existence of psychic power. "But investigation does no harm" and it should be continued by science, he said.

Science will never realize its dream of producing life, and mental telepathy is impossible, in his opinion.

M'NARY-HAUGEN
BILL IS PASSED

Farm Bloc in Senate Charges Socialistic Control and Price Fixing to Win Fight.

Washington, Feb. 12.—The Senate yesterday passed the McNary-Haugen Farm Relief bill, rejected eight months ago, in a slightly different form.

The vote was 47 to 39, as compared with the 45-39 margin by which the bill was defeated last June.

Twenty-four Republicans, twenty-two Democrats and the one Farm-Labor Senator voted for the bill, while twenty-two Republicans and seventeen Democrats voted against it.

Previously, by a vote of 54 to 32, the Senate had rejected the Curtis-Crisp Farm bill.

As passed, the McNary-Haugen bill carried amendments to include tobacco as one of the basic commodities, on which the equalization fee would be levied, and to provide for putting into effect the Bledsoe plan, designed to insure cotton planters against price declines.

The Senate refused, however, to accept amendments to defer application of the equalization fee on cotton.

The House is expected to vote next week on the measure.

Opening the Senate debate yesterday, Senator Howell, Republican, Nebraska, assailed "special privileges allowed the United States Steel Corporation" and declared twenty-four ships, now in New York harbor, have not been permitted to discharge their cargoes because it would hinder business of the corporation. He complained that President Coolidge had not made public a report by the Tariff Commission on the steel industry.

Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, denied the Tariff Commission had made a report on steel, and said Howell probably was talking about pigiron. He also said the customs service had informed him yesterday that no ships were being held up in New York harbor.

Ghoul Thought To Be Responsible For Skulls
Found In Old Trunk

(By Associated Press.)
Detroit, Feb. 12.—Doubtful whether four skulls and two braids of hair found in an abandoned trunk in a house in Royal Oak were those of slain women or had been stolen from graves, police today believed the trunk was the property of James Coiner.

The skulls were found by children of a negro family which recently moved into the house, the last previous occupant of which was Coiner who left about a year ago.

Chicago, Feb. 12.—A negro, James Coiner, was convicted of grave robbing at Hammond, Indiana, last November and was sentenced to 3 to 10 years in the penitentiary. He was found guilty of stealing the body of a white woman from a cemetery in that city.

Coiner confessed that he had planned to take the body to Bernice, Illinois.

AMUSEMENTS

"THE KID BROTHER"
Harold Lloyd is scheduled to lead the feature comedy parade for 1927, for his newest Paramount release, "The Kid Brother," showing at the LincolnWay Theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The story of the new Lloyd is simple, yet forceful, according to studio reports. It relates the tale of the youngest son of a family of strong men—three brothers, and father—who control the mountain town in which they live.

Like all kid brothers Lloyd is subjected to the indignities that befall the youngest of every family. He is never taken into councils and has no voice in the direction of his father's edicts. In the end, however, the youngster shows his real mettle, and wins the recognition he craves by saving the family honor in one of the most entertaining finishes ever seen.

Heading the supporting cast is Jobyna Ralston, prettier than ever as the girl with the medicine show, and the hub around which much of the action runs. Walter James gives a realistic performance as the father. Olin Francis and Leo Willis are ideally cast as Lloyd's brothers. Eddie Boland could not be surpassed as the barker with the medicine show, and Romanoff, the medicine show's strong man, is built to order for the part, with his powerful physique. Ralph Yearsley, the bully, will recall memories of "Tolable David," and Frank Lanning range be equally as convincing.

Wilson College To Get New Buildings

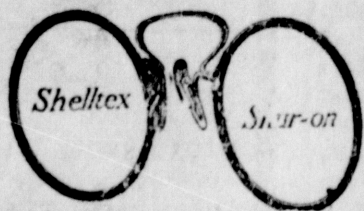

Plans for the new dormitory and recitation hall of Wilson college, Chambersburg, which were drawn by Ludlow and Peabody, architects, New York city, have been approved by the board of trustees, it was learned Friday. Work on the new dormitory will start immediately after the commencement and will be completed and ready for occupancy by the fall of 1928.

This is the start of the $500,000 building program, which the board has planned. A student alumnae hall, an extension to the dining hall, and the complete equipment of President's hall as an infirmary are included in the program.

A continuous campaign will be waged to raise $1,000,000 for the college. Later a second dormitory is to be erected opposite the first one, some of the older buildings must be replaced, the grounds near the creek must be beautified and addition made to the scholarship funds, the board decided.

While no chapel is included in the building program, the board expressed the desire that some friend of the college provide this as a memorial.

Both A and B power supply direct from the light socket through easily removable units which completely rectify and filter the current—the dream of radio engineers—a practical, durable, dependable method of battery elimination founded upon time-tried and tested principals, old in the electrical art, but arranged in an original and unique method which is Zenith's own. No trickle chargers, no small storage batteries, no acids, no water, nor other camouflage methods. Three stages of audio amplification instead of two as used by others. Greater and more uniform power. Amazing tone quality. Costs less than a cent an hour to operate.

THE Zenith Radio Company is one of oldest makers of radio sets. The standards of quality have remained unquestioned. Throughout the past years they have consistently manufactured radio receiving sets of the highest quality and at no time have they sacrificed our ideals for quantity production. A Zenith owner may rest assured that his Zenith receiving set embodies the best possible in engineering practice, in materials and in craftsmanship. In a word there is no better radio on the market. Without a Zenith in your home you are denying yourself the supreme pleasure of hearing the best in radio.

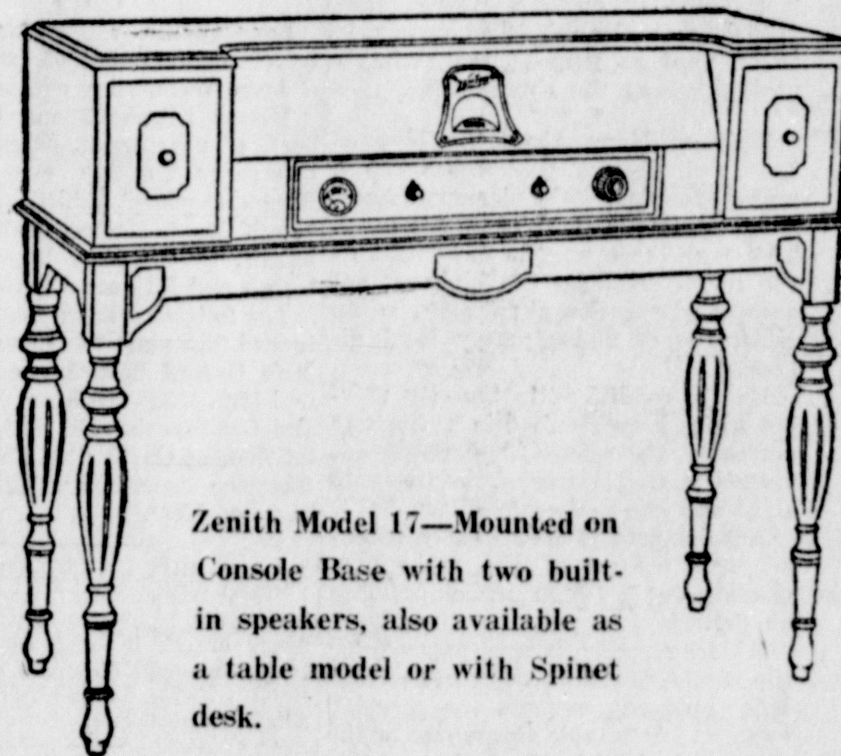

MacMillan Knew--

When Commander MacMillan chose Zenith radio for his latest North Polar Expedition, he knew from personal experience what Zenith would do—

MacMillan knew that Zenith—even one of the earlier models—would enable him to tune in stations all over the United States and Europe—even far-off Honolulu.

MacMillan knew that no other radio equipment would give him such extraordinary performance, such unfailing service.

When Arctic explorers of MacMillan's calibre stake their lives—repeatedly—on Zenith performance, one reason only can explain their choice—Zenith has proved to be the best obtainable, at any price.

Zenith Model 17—Mounted on Console Base with two built-in speakers, also available as a table model or with Spinet desk.

Zenith Model 17 operates on storage battery tubes—direct from the electric light socket, using 110 volts alternating current of 60 cycles. No liquids, trickle chargers, dry or storage batteries are used.

Double shielding to insure the utmost in supersensitive selectivity Condensers mounted on one shaft—permanently balanced. Oversize, heavy-duty transformers. Easy to operate—Single Control (no arbitrary calibration). Electrically illuminated dial. Operating cost—about one cent per hour.

Now for the first time—reliable, dependable storage battery tubes, such as 201A and 301A using electric current direct from the light socket, with no liquids or electrolytes. Supreme in Tone—Zenith has long been noted for its tone quality. Model 17 gives amazing reproduction.

Out of the Past

Happenings of Days Gone by as Chronicled in The Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times, the Files Recall.

TEN YEARS AGO

Church Social.—Members of the College Lutheran church enjoyed a social in the lecture room on Thursday evening. An attractive program had been arranged by the committee in charge and refreshments were served. The social was given by the first half of the congregation taken alphabetically, and the other half will act as hosts later in the year.

Palmer.—Walter, Miss Mary Walter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Walter, of Centre Mills, and Lloyd C. Palmer, teacher of the school at that place, were married at the Reformed parsonage in Littlestown, at noon Saturday, by Rev. H. S. Shelly. They are spending several days in Baltimore and will return to Centre Mills on Tuesday. Mr. Palmer is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Palmer, of Littlestown.

Patriotic Exercises.—Lincoln's birthday was suitably observed by the parochial schools at one o'clock this afternoon when the pupils from the four grades gathered in the assembly room, and rendered an appropriate program, in which patriotic songs featured.

A recital of different portions of Abraham Lincoln's life was given by Regina Breighner, Joseph Hemler, Eleanor King, Francis Redding and Rose Smith. Lincoln's Gettysburg address was given by Francis Hemler, and Charles Myrick read Bishop Spalding's "Patriotism."

A brief talk was made by Rev. W. F. Boyle, pastor, and the exercises were closed by the singing of "Holy God We Praise Thy Name."

Profitable Supper.—Complete returns from the chicken and biscuit supper given by St. James Mite Society in the social rooms of the church last Thursday evening showed that $116.00 was cleared. The money is to be used as part of the society's pledge toward the church debt.

Notes of News About the Town.—Last year Lincoln's birthday was a signal for patriotic demonstrations along the line of the Lincoln Highway. This year there was no movement of the sort started by the highway association, and the observance, while general, was under purely local direction.

Due to conditions in the city market which have resulted in a shortage generally, the price of sugar was advanced in Gettysburg stores today to eight and one-half cents a pound.

One hundred Adams county teachers were present at the mid-winter meeting in the high school building on Saturday.

A large audience was present for the special Lincoln service in the College Lutheran church on Sunday evening. A suitable observance of the day will be held in the post room this evening.

Papers in Pennsylvania and Maryland are using a story about the Lincoln pew remaining at the former location in the Presbyterian church. Sergeant Norwood Allen, U. S. Army, has arrived here to assist Major F. L. Graham with the military course at college.

Town House Sold.—James Weikert has purchased on private terms the two story brick dwelling of Mervin Van Dyke on East Middle street.

Another E. D. Hudson.—Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Hudson, of Hanover street, received a telephone call this morning from their son, Dr. E. D. Hudson, Jr., in Washington, telling them of the arrival of a son, E. D. Hudson, 3rd.

Notes of News About the Town.—Last night the Phi Delta Theta fraternity of college entertained at a dance, this evening Alpha Tau Omega will give a dance and tomorrow night will be the Junior Prom. The basketball game tomorrow afternoon will be between the Sophomores and Freshmen.

About $50 was cleared by the old fashioned dance held in Xavier Hall Wednesday evening.

The Choral Society will meet this evening at eight o'clock in the high school building.

Dr. Lynn R. Porter has arrived in Fairfield, and will act as assistant to Doctor Glenn.

Ira Plank has returned from Eddy-stone where he was employed by the Rehington Arms Company. He will coach the college baseball team again this spring.

A spelling bee will be held at Good Intent schoolhouse on Friday evening, Miss Belle Neely, teacher.

Personals.—Miss Ruth Bream has returned to her home on Carlisle street, after spending three months in Bunkie, La.

E. M. Bender, of Carlisle street, has gone to Southern Pines, N. C., to spend several weeks.

Rev. Stanley Billheimer has returned to Norwood, after spending several days with his parents on Springs avenue.

Col. E. B. Cope, of Baltimore street, has gone to Philadelphia to attend a meeting of the Loyal Legion, of which he is a member.

Miss Margaret McIlhenny and Miss Margaret McLaughlin, of Knoxlyn, have returned to their homes after spending some time at the home of J. P. Bigham on Carlisle street.

Miss Marie King entertained a number of young ladies at her home on East Middle street.

Miss Ruth Scherdel and Ralph Butt, of Hanover, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reynolds, on Chambersburg street.

Bernard Partridge, who has been a resident of Gettysburg for the past seven years, has gone to Baltimore to accept a position with a firm manufacturing shells.

Mrs. I. L. Taylor, of Carlisle street, is spending the week-end with friends at Arendtsville.

Melvin Hill and Guyon Miller have left for Savannah, Georgia, where they have secured employment with the Southern Express Company.

Norman Warren, of Stratton street, has gone to East Orange, N. J., where he has accepted a position.

Bonneauville.—Miss Mary Smith entertained a number of her friends at a dance Wednesday evening.

Misses Elizabeth and Maggie Gilbert, of near town, entertained at a 500, party Tuesday evening. Misses Regina Orndorff, Edith and Lee Strasbaugh, Marie Keiser, Catherine Strasbaugh, Guy Miller, Raymond Strasbaugh and Raymond Orndorff.

The following from Bonneauville attended the play "A Country Kid" in Nye Oxford Saturday evening: Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Melhorn, Misses Edith and Lee Strasbaugh, Esther Eck, Violet Topper, Guy Miller, Charles Klunk, Clarence Sneeringer Fabian Orndorff and Leo Noel.

BOYS AND GIRLS

Gertrude Kaiser, farm girl of Clayton, Ia., won the national junior dairy cattle judging contest at Detroit, and will be given a trip to the British Royal Livestock Exposition in England next June.

Maurice Davis of Northampton, Eng., has learned four languages since he was 74 years old.

SNOWFALL

There is fresh linen on the earth today.
A smooth white covering where the roses sleep.
No fretful dreams disturb their slumbers deep.
The eye can see no sign of disarray.
No evidence of anguish or display
Of tumbings and of tossings, such as sweep
The beds which weary, troubled mortals keep.
Waiting the morning's first faint streak of gray.
I look upon this glistening counterpane
Smoothed o'er the poppies and the mignonette
And know that while life throbs the wish is vain
So restless and so fair a couch to get.
Man for his slumber no such splendor knows
As that which winter spreads above a rose.

By and by, Mrs. Wildcat, who had grown tired of sniffing at the hole in the roof of Busy Beaver's mud cabin, trotted away, and following the edge of the frozen pond, kept a bright outlook in case a somebody good to eat might happen along. Like all those who live in the Shady Forest, she was hungry. Every one who is up and about in the cold winter time is hungry, for food is scarce and hard to find. So many forest citizens are asleep in their winter burrow out of harm's way. And there they will stay until spring comes again and the warm air calls them forth.
On and on trotted Mrs. Wildcat, hoping to run across a woodmouse or a grouse. But as luck seemed against her, on arriving at the open waters where the Bubbling Brook emptied into the pond, she hid behind the bushes and waited. Perhaps the beavers might come back, she thought. If such good luck should come her way, she meant this time to be more careful. No crackling twig should again rob her of a dinner.
Suddenly Mrs. Wildcat pricked up her ears. Across the level snow-covered ground came a graceful furry coated little animal. Now and again, after taking two or three swift jumps, this merry little person would throw himself forward for a slide on his stomach.
"Well, I never!" exclaimed Mrs. Wildcat under her breath. "Mr. Otter plays just like a youngster," and for a moment she forgot that she was looking for a meal. And when she did remember, it was too late. Yes, it was too late, for that time Mr. Otter had plunged into the open waters and disappeared under the ice.
"I suppose now he will catch Busy Beaver," said Mrs. Wildcat, in a disgusted tone of voice. "Yes, he'll most likely get the dinner which I've just lost," and she snarled right out loud at the thought of some one else satisfying his hunger.
Mr. Otter, however, is not a hunter. He is a fisherman, a fisherman as wonderful as the Loon, that mar-emptied into the pond and quickly climb up on the ice to eat his dinner. And in the next story you shall hear whether Mrs. Wildcat catches Mr. Otter or not.

Marie Suzette Stevenson, adopted when a tiny Belgian war refugee by Lord and Lady Stevenson of England, has been made the heir to their fortune.

QUALITY AT LOW COST

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

YOU ARE YOU

YOU wonder why it is that you are not like somebody else, somebody who has been granted fame, or fortune, or a certain quality of ease. You wonder why it is that that somebody apparently has no troubles, is care free and without worry.

Everything about you is as it is because you are you. That is all. And your station is probably the most unique. You may have next to nothing but your very self, a gifted mind, reasonable health, youth, a few friends ("but those without capitulation," let us hope), useful memories, and a sincere desire to grow and fulfill the faith placed in you by those who love you.

Sit down with yourself some day. Ask yourself questions. Get really confidential with yourself and don't be afraid to tell yourself the truth. For, remember, you are you. Fundamentally you can never be changed. You can be rebuilt, polished, refined, made braver and stronger. But that will only make the more lovely the fact that you are you.

It's a splendid plan to take a piece of paper and pencil and write down everything that you can think of that you are—and then write down everything that you can think of that you are not, but which you possibly could be.

Often at the theatre we lose the story of the play because we lose our program. In life it is something like that. We lose our way and become very discouraged—because we lose our program.

Keep referring to your program so that you can always give a good account of yourself to yourself. The world doesn't get anything that we do not first give to ourselves.

You are you! A compact makeup of wonderful possibilities.

TERRIBLE SORES

No Matter How Chronic, SAN CURA OINTMENT is Guaranteed to Give Relief and Often Permanent Cure.

"My daughter was troubled for over a year with a fever sore on her leg, and was helpless in bed for three months. To the great surprise of all, including the four doctors who had attended her, San Cura Ointment healed the great sore in less than six weeks."—J. D. Hood, Townville, Pa.

Karl C. Banks, of the Atlantic Refining Co., of Pittsburgh, had a sore on his ankle for a year. He doctored, and tried various remedies without relief. He says: "San Cura Ointment worked like a charm; reduced the swelling and healed the sore in two weeks."

Bear in mind, that besides sores San Cura Ointment is used with great success in eczema, boils, tetter, also itching, bleeding and protruding piles. In cases of burns, scalds, cuts and bruises, San Cura is most valuable. The price is only 30c, 60c and $1.25 a jar, at People's Drug Store.

Harold Lloyd
In

"Kid Brother"

Comedy gems from this comedy genius have become a habit. "Safety Last," "Grandma's Boy," "The Freshman," "For Heaven's Sake"—All done in true road-show fashion.

And now with "The Kid Brother" Lloyd leads the laughter for 1927!

Lloyd, more so than any other screen comedian, gives you a real run for your money. Every picture tried and proved THERE by preview audiences, absolutely insuring your evening's entertainment.

"Make them funny, but keep them human," is Lloyd's motto. And here's one reminiscent in theme—wholesomeness and heart-appeal—of "Grandma's Boy"—with twice the laughs!

What New York Said Of It—

Times: "You might go to see 'The Kid Brother' insisting that you would never laugh aloud, but it is questionable whether you would live in silence for longer than one or two sequences. Enough laughter was generated yesterday in the Rialto to make thousands forget the gloomy weather."

Sun: "Should all audiences follow the example of last Saturday afternoon's, the Rialto may well be worried. While hundreds waited in the rain outside, the majority of the audience waited stolidly to see 'The Kid Brother' through again."
